BETTER MILK FOR BOROUGH RESIDENTS

The Board of Health Is Making Tests of Products Dispensed Here, And An Improvement In Quality Is Noted

O'NEIL BEFORE COUNCIL

Recommends Passage of Milk Ordinance, But Body, After Discussion, Holds Same Over Until Next Regular Meeting In January

John N. O'Neil, secretary of Charleroi Board of Health, was present at the regular meeting of the borough's leading civic body last night, his attendance at the session being in the interests of pure milk supply for the residents of Charleroi. Mr. O'Neil said that the health board had purchased a milk tester for the use of William M. Darby, health officer, with which the official has been making numerous tests of the lactical fluid as dispensed to the patrons of the borough by dealers, principally farmers or men who conduct dairies, either as a side issue or in connection with farming, gardening, or other vocation. Mr. O'Neil presented to the council for the inspection of the members a chart on which tests of milk were given, showing some of good quality, some of medium quality, and a few which did not pass state health requirements. He asked council to consider the milk ordinance, which was presented to it at a prior session of the body, and recommended its adoption by the membership. It was stated that it was not necessary to adopt or pass the ordinance, insofar as delegating to the health board powers which it does not now have; the main advantage, as explained by President Hugh E. Fergus of council, when the ordinance later came before the body for consideration was, that in its adoption fines would accrue to borough benefit instead of reverting to the state. After some discussion on the part of the membership, it was resolved to hold the ordinance over until the January meeting of the body. It might be said further, that Mr. O'Neil stated that the object of the board of health is to see to it that the people of Charleroi have the best milk possible obtainable, and that the milk dealers were heartily in accord with it in its endeavors, as is attested through virtue of the fact that since the testing of the lactical fluid was begun, the quality and purity of the milk product has been notably improved.

Councilman George W. Risbeck, who is chairman of the committee of council to whom was delegated by the president to look into the matter of group insurance for the firemen, reported the findings of the committee, and made its recommendations. The report of Mr. Risbeck was accepted, and he was instructed to proceed and secure the group insurance for the 53 members of the fire department. After the reading of the report of (Continued on page six)

Taxpayers Make Charge of Fraud

Counsel for those taxpayers of Amwell township opposing the participation of that school district in the purchase of Trinity Hall and the establishment of a high school there by the townships of Amwell, North Franklin, South Strabane and Canton townships, yesterday filed an amendment to the injunction suit presented to court Monday. In this amendment a charge of "fraud" is alleged, this being based on the grounds that for reasons as stated in the original petition, the action of the board is "a fraud upon the taxpayers of the township." The amendment sets out that the action of the board is not necessary for the present school needs; that the proposed location of the joint high school is not advantageous for the reasonable accommodation of the high school pupils of the township. On the contrary, it is claimed, it is remotely located with reference to the major portion of the boys and girls in the school district.

BIG RESPONSE DELAYS JUDGES

The essays on "How I Would Improve the Lighting in My Own Home," written by the pupils of the Charleroi district schools, in the Home Lighting contest recently conducted under the auspices of the West Penn System, were so numerous that the judges have been considerably delayed in announcing the winners.

One element in particular, which has been a handicap to the judges, has been the unusual excellence of the essays, a large number being of such a high order that it has been a difficult matter to determine which were superior.

When taking into consideration that the essays must be judged, not only for knowledge of the lessons, but for thoroughness and neatness of the work, originality of ideas and clarity of language, an idea may be gained of the huge task the judges have undertaken.

However, the process of elimination will soon be in full swing, and the name of the local winners and those eligible to compete for the $15,000 home and college scholarships will be announced in the columns of this paper shortly after the judges have finished their work.

SENATE TO FIND OUT WHO IS TO "RUN" MUSCLE SHOALS

Washington, Dec. 3.—After four years of fruitless endeavor, the Senate today set out to determine finally who is to operate the big $150,000,000 Muscle Shoals nitrate and power project, and how.

A coalition of Southern Democrats and midwestern Republicans has formed to force through some bill as rapidly as possible that cheaper fertilizer may be furnished the farmer soon after completion of the project in July. Senators Underwood of Alabama and Norris of Nebraska have joined hands to leaders of the two groups to fight for immediate consideration.

The Norris government operation bill reported last May is under a unanimous consent agreement which calls for "consideration until its final disposition."

Henry Ford will not renew his offer for Muscle Shoals as requested in a telegram sent him by Senator Hefliff of Alabama, and Miss McKellar, Tennessee, it was learned from authoritative source today.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 3.—Local farmers have gone into the business of "raising their own" furs. A silver fox farm has been started on a 32-acre tract of land in Swissvale and already seven pairs of silver foxes are gambling in the wired enclosure.

Pelts of these creatures are valued at from $100 to $1200 each depending on the thickness of the fur, and more particularly the shade. For the first two years the foxes will be raised for breeding purposes, with no thought of the pelts.

Christmas Seals And Schools--December 5 Day For Their Sale

Friday, December 5, is the day set aside for the sale of Christmas Seals in the public schools of Charleroi. In recent years the boys and girls of our schools have responded in a splendid way to the worthy cause for which Christmas Seals stand. This year they are going to exceed any previous year in their purchases of seals.

And it should be so. Aside from the sheer happiness derived in helping one's less fortunate fellowmen, the boys and girls of Charleroi have, themselves, benefited directly from the proceeds of the sale at Christmas Seals in former years.

In the new Junior High School building patrons and friends visiting the building may see a Medical room completely furnished. This room was furnished by the ladies of the Athens club—the organization which sponsors and conducts the sale of these Christmas Seals in Charleroi. This Medical room is the headquarters of the schools physician who reports there daily at 9:30 in the morning.

To the physician, in this room are sent any and all students, in the various buildings, needing the attention of the doctor. The room is equipped and furnished with the following articles: Infirmary linoleum, a regulation hospital-bed with furnishings, a waste-receiver, bed-screen, an electrically-heated steam sterilizer, a glass instrument-stand, two white chairs, a medical-cabinet filling cabinet, and a large cabinet equipped with all the usual pans, solutions, applications, bandages et cetera necessary for the treatment of minor ailments and injuries. All of the furnishings are in white enamel except the filling-cabinet and sterilizer, the first being in olive-drab steel and the latter in nickel. In addition, the room is equipped with a toilet and hot and cold running water with a lavatory. And this room, the only one of its kind in the whole Monongahela valley (we are told), has been made possible through the kindness of the Athens Club appropriating part of the proceeds of the seal sales for this purpose.

Friday is the day set aside in the schools of Charleroi. Every boy and girl is going to show his and her appreciation of this splendidly equipped Medical Room by taking just as many Seals as he or she can conscientiously afford. Each boy and girl has the advantage of this room for nine months of every year. Is it worth one cent a month to them? If so, the purchase of nine seals by "EVERY" boy and girl would be a splendid way of expressing their appreciation. The Charleroi Mail will publish the results of the sale of Seals in the schools, the buildings, which building will lead the others in the number of Seals purchased? Watch the Mail after Friday.

Well-known Druggist Died Last Evening

Daniel Baker, aged 44 years, well-known druggist and native resident of Belle Vernon, son of the late Rev. Perrin Baker, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church of that place, died last night at 9:30 o'clock at the home of his mother, in Graham street, following a prolonged illness of eight months. The deceased was born and reared in Belle Vernon, and was widely known throughout the entire Monongahela valley.

A graduate of the Philadelphia School of Pharmacy, Mr. Baker has been a druggist for the past 24 years, and two years ago purchased the Corner Drug Store, Second and Main streets, which has been under his successful management since that time. At one time the deceased was employed in Hennings' Drug Store of this place. He leaves beside his wife, Mrs. Susan Baker, three children, Perrin, Emma, Jean and Anne; four brothers, Theodore Baker of Wilkensburg, Joseph Baker of Pittsburgh, William Baker of Chicago, and Robert Baker, at home; and one sister, Miss Sarah Baker, also at home.

Pittsburgh Railways Company Makes Price Reasonable to Students And Towns-People—Spec. Cars, If Guarantee Made

READY FOR BIG CROWD

Arrangements Practically Completed—Charleroi Fans Will Be Seated On the East Side of the Field; This Being Decided By Toss of a Coin

A survey will be made at the High School today to determine how many students will take advantage of the special rate offered by the Pittsburgh Railways company. Mr. Yost advises that special cars are available provided guarantee is made for them. If a sufficient number of students and townspeople make known their desire to travel to Tech Bowl by this means, as many cars as are needed will be secured. The price will be $1.25 round trip, and this includes the trip directly to the field. It is quite probable that many will avail themselves of the opportunity to travel by this route.

At the Fort Pitt Hotel yesterday, Faculty Managers Copeland and Gardner, the latter of New Castle High School, met with George M. Parker, chairman of the Syracuse Trophy committee, William Farrell of the Gazette-Times, was also present. The chief point of interest discussed was the question of whether the season should be prolonged to December 13, in order to pick the so-called "real champion." Mr. Parker strenuously objects to this, and while it is quite likely that it will be carried out this season he has several recommendations to make which will be announced later. Both the Charleroi and New Castle men, while agreeing that the season will be too long, feel that the awarding of two cups, one to the winner of the Charleroi-New Castle game, and the other to Brad-Jock High School, will be very unsatisfactory. Mr. Parker has the interest of the various schools in mind constantly and never fails to impress that point on his listeners.

Practically all arrangements for handling the crowd at Carnegie Tech Bowl have been made. Bert Munhall, the popular trainer at Tech, has been engaged to handle all details. Charleroi fans will be seated on the east side of the field. This is the side that the Tech students sit during the regular season. This was decided by tossing of a coin in which Charleroi won the toss. Entrances will be marked so that time will be saved. Charleroi followers will have one gate to pass through, while the New Castle fans will use the main entrance. "All" Slack will not be able to officiate, but Storey and McFarland have been engaged. The umpire will be decided upon today.

GHASTLY PROCESSION

An appalling reminder of the horrors of war was presented to the people of Paris on Armistice Day. Following the usual grand military display, with all its pomp and pride, came a procession of the war's victims, who, because of their great number, 15,000 presented a more pitiable spectacle than ever was witnessed, even when savage conquerors of old exhibited mutilated victims as a warning to their enemies. The account states that the Paris procession of the halt, the lame and the blind—the "mutilés" of the war—was headed by locked, unseeing past throngs of silent, bare-headed spectators. Following them came cripples in wheeled chairs, then came the horribly disfigured, then the armless, legless men, and finally in taxis the totally incapacitated victims.

The only indication of the nature of this terrible, heart-rending exhibition revealed in the account appears in the statement that women wept for their misery as the war victims thus "mutilated" for increased pensions. But no possible demonstration in the interests of world peace and means to that end could have been more eloquent and effective than the sight of these fifteen thousand wrecks of humanity left along the black trail of war. Though the French fought only in self-defense, they must have been stirred to hostility toward war itself, as they looked on this ghastly portion of its fruits, and been deeply moved with the desire to give all possible support to the organized effort to prevent wars in the future through international agreement to substitute arbitration for the sword.

A man to be really in love, Edwin Markham is quoted, must love poetry and every young woman should test her suitor by reading poetry to him. Should he fail to warm to it, she would be wise to send him about his business. But there is an obstacle which the venerable author of "The Man With a Hoe" seems to have overlooked. It might be as difficult to induce the average young woman of our time to read sonnets to her "steady" as to persuade him to listen to them. And she really might prefer to judge him by the size and quality of his offerings of chocolates.

Senator Borah is the author of a bill limiting the Supreme Court's power of holding an act of Congress unconstitutional to a decision of seven Justices. It looks as if it will be necessary to "save the Constitution" from Borah as well as from the Federal Reserve Act, if that campaign of rescue was all it purported to be.

Some campaigns are inexpensive, even in this age of money. Governor Smith reports that his cost him nothing and Representative James Lucey says his cost him only $28, $18 of which paid for cigars. The item mentioned is significant. Nine times out of ten a cigar is probably more persuasive than an argument.

According to its State Secretary of Welfare, Pennsylvania has 25 per cent more paupers than the average for the United States. Pennsylvania is also above the average in wealth. In our older sections there is a tendency for great riches and great poverty to become near neighbors—an indication that something is wrong.

Gandhi is said to have confessed that owing to the conciliatory methods of the present British administration in India his movement is losing ground. This is not the first indication that conciliation on the part of rulers is more persuasive than the heavy hand.

Mortimer L. Schiff's gift of $25,000 toward the completion of the cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York does not imply any falling away from the Jewish faith but merely a recognition that the cathedral is a monument to his city and an influence for good.

And so Senator Wheeler returns to the Democratic fold. This following the withdrawal of its endorsement by the American Federation of Labor leaves the third party with little prospect ahead despite its leader's rosy announcements.

The English clergy have voted "obey" from the marriage service and substituted "serve." Does the latter term any more accurately than the former reflect the attitude of the average bride of today?

A daily dozen may be all right, but a daily dozen and a half may be risky. It is getting along in years, as the saying is, that the average bride of today?

PRETTY SEAL ALSO SAVES MANY LIVES

Beautiful Decoration For Letters and Packages Carries Health, Says Dr. Thomas.

The 1924 Christmas Seal is not only a beautiful decoration for letters and packages, but will mean health and life to thousands, according to Dr. John M. Thomas, Seal chairman for Pennsylvania. Dr. Thomas said:

"The Christmas Seal for 1924 is the most artistic produced during the seventeen years in which the annual Seal Sale has become a recognized feature of the Christmas season. The Seal shows beautiful shades of red, blue and gold. The Seal is so artistic that it would sell readily for its decorative value. It has, however, a much greater appeal."

"The Seal carries the words 'Health Christmas 1924'. The double barred cross is red on a white shield symbolizes the world-wide movement for the prevention of tuberculosis, in which are enrolled the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society and its affiliated organizations. Through this campaign saved in Pennsylvania since the Seal was first sold.

"On this Seal also appears a woman clad in gold drapery, holding above her a torch which symbolizes knowledge enlightening the world regarding the dangers of tuberculosis, and renewing the hope brought to the message to the ill that tuberculosis can be cured, and to the well that it can be prevented."

"The word 'Health' indicates the wide scope of the tuberculosis movement for the betterment of public health in all directions. This program is a broad one because it is now generally recognized that any sanitary measure or educational effort that improves general health conditions helps to prevent tuberculosis."

"The placing of the Seal on a letter or package not only carries a message of cheer to the recipient, but means that throughout the year workers are carrying the lessons of good health and longer life to the people of Pennsylvania."

HEALTH DIVIDENDS

The death rate from tuberculosis in Pennsylvania has been reduced more than 40 per cent since 1907. In 1923 alone, 5143 lives were saved in Pennsylvania, with the proportionate gain in homes kept intact, thousands enabled to work and happiness and health for a multitude.

Single-Wheeled Motorcycle Carries Rider on Inside of Rim

A single-wheeled, spokeless motorcycle has been invented in Italy. Engine and seat are held on a frame within a large outer revolving tire which passes over pulleys. Power is applied directly to the outside rim, the single wheel affording the rider's feet are close to the ground so that he can easily regain his balance in case the vehicle should tip. It is guided by a regulation steering wheel.

No Eggs Boiled on the Planet Mars Temperature Tests Prove

Owing to the rare state of air on the planet Mars, it has been shown by a government scientist, water there will boil at a much lower temperature than on the earth. To determine the degree of warmth of the distant sphere, the experimenter directs a ray of the planet's light upon two thin wires, thus setting up an electric current which is measured by delicate instruments. The temperature of Mars, according to the scientist, is from twenty to forty degrees cooler than that of the earth. This would make it impossible to boil eggs on the planet.

Thirty Thousand Acres of Trees Used Yearly for Toothpicks

Approximately 30,000 acres of trees are necessary for the manufacture of the toothpicks used yearly in the United States alone, according to government estimates. Maple and hickory are the chief kinds of wood used, although sweet and yellow birch are employed in some localities. After being felled, the logs are sawed into bolts, twenty-eight inches long. These are then steamed and cut into strips of veneer or thin sticks which are divided into ribbons, three inches wide. Eight or ten of these are run through machines that clip them into splinters of regulation toothpick size and shape, and they are then boxed, each container holding about 1,500. Michigan, Maine, Ohio and Oregon are the principal sources of the supply.

Preserving Leaves in Specimen Book

The common method of preserving leaves by pressing them with a flatiron rubbed on beeswax may be improved in the following way: Paint the underside of each leaf with linseed oil and iron it per side in the same way. This treatment gives the leaves sufficient gloss and keeps them pliable. It is not necessary to press and dry the leaves beforehand, although this may be done if desired. The tints of the leaves can even be preserved by painting the upper side with the oil and placing them, without ironing, between newspapers and under weights to dry.

Using a C-Battery

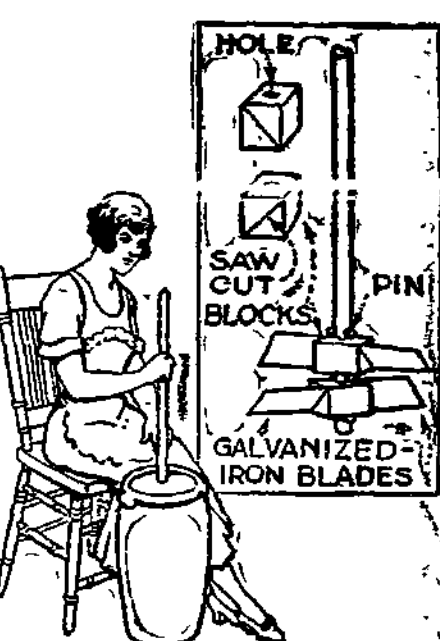

The C or bias battery is a very useful adjunct to the audio-frequency amplifier, as it not only improves the operation of the set but also reduces the drain on the B-battery. However, if the B-battery has a potential of under 45 volts, the C-battery is unnecessary; for a 60-volt battery the C-voltage should be about 3 volts, and for a 90-volt B-battery the C-battery should have a potential of 4½ volts, and be connected with the negative toward the grid.

Effective Chain Plunger

The work of churning is hastened considerably by using a plunger with two blades that revolve in opposite directions. The plunger is a wooden rod with three holes drilled through it in the lower part for wooden pins. Two square blocks, drilled to fit on the plunger rod and just wide enough to fit loosely between the pins, are attached as shown. Slots are sawed diagonally in these blocks to receive the blades, which are cut from heavy galvanized iron. The plunger is worked up and down in the usual way.

At Death's Door.

"Ten years of stomach trouble reduced me to a living skeleton. I had attacks of pain that doubled me up like a jackknife and I was as yellow as a gold piece. No medicine or doctors helped me and was really at death's door. A lodge brother advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I found it to be the only medicine to touch my case." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will continue or money refunded. At all druggists.

the income derived from the borough ambulance there was some discussion as to the feasibility of purchasing a new ambulance, but the proposition was held over until the next meeting of the board.

Burgess J. Bryant Tussing, in his report, stated that there were 15 arrests in the month of November. 27 were fined; 16 were discharged; two served time; fines enriching the borough treasury was turned over in the sum of $117.

Council discussed two very important matters where the welfare of the residents of the borough is involved. One was the proposition of moving the better sidewalks; the other is to afford the residents of Oakland and Shady avenues, in particular, where they are devoid of aqueduct. In the matter of sidewalks, the owners of property will find it a wise plan to repair the same where necessary, or lay new walks, where needed; and fix their walks where depressions occur; failure to comply will mean that council will apply remedial agencies at the expense of the property holder. Another proposition is that where people have porches which extend over sidewalks, snow or other accumulations must be removed from them, as they have been declared something of a nuisance and menace to the safety of passersby.

It may be said in passing that it is the intention of the fire and water committee of council to secure a list of the residents in the hill district who are devoid of water and present the list to the water company in an effort to see what can be done for them in a regard which at present is the cause of worry and vexation to not only the people themselves, but a source of concern to council as well.

Rubens' Paintings

Bryan in his "Dictionary of Painters and Engravers" says that the amount of Rubens' pictorial work was prodigious. A list records no fewer than 2,253, exclusive of 484 drawings. It was Rubens' practice to employ many student assistants. It is not possible to say exactly how many of the paintings are still in existence.

Sewing Needle Old

The sewing needle dates back to antiquity, and it is not known who invented this implement. It is evident from relics that stone needles were used in the Stone Age. The Chinese are believed to have been the first to use needles of steel. They gradually spread westward until brought to Europe by the Moors.

HEALTH DOCTOR TALKS OF THE CARE OF TEETH

The health talk of the Pennsylvania Department of Health is prepared this week by Dr. Charles H. Miner, Secretary of Health. Dr. Miner says:

"Malnutrition and bad teeth are closely related. Faulty diet in early child life has much to do with the perfect development of the teeth.

"If the nursing mother's diet be lacking in the mineral salts needed to build tooth structure, or if artificial diet lack these elements, it cannot be expected that the child's teeth will be strong or perfect in development. The baby teeth are formed almost entirely before the child is put on solid diet, so that it is possible to determine the kind of baby teeth a child will have by control of its food supply.

"Malnutrition in older children and adults is often blamable less upon faulty diet than to the fact that neglected teeth have impaired the mastication function.

"If teeth with holes in them be permitted to go uncared for, or if a source of contamination, cutting down the nutritional value of an otherwise well balanced diet.

"Take the child to the dentist early and often and assure him of a good set of teeth with which to perform the first step in digestion, and you will be taking a long step toward the prevention of many general disorders later in life."

Sperm Whale Valuable

The most valuable catch that can be made in salt water is a sperm whale. A very large specimen taken off the west coast of Vancouver island was found to contain 250 pounds of ambergris. This alone brought $150,000, while the blubber and spermaceti were worth another $35,000.

Original Tattooed Men

It is impossible to say when and where the custom of tattooing began but it is of ancient origin. In the tombs near Thebes were found painted representations of white men with tattooed bodies, and in his contemporary Caesar wrote of Britons being tattooed.

September's Many Names
September falls within the zodiacal sign of Libra, the balance, or scales. September gets its name from the Latin numeral septem, because the month was the seventh of the ancient Roman calendar, which had but ten months. In the days of Charlemagne the French called the season the harvest month. Among the early Saxons it was known as barley month. The American Indians called it "Moon of falling leaves."

THE WORLD OF SPORT

Is Winner, Fay Proves To Be a Tough Foe

Burns, sports editor, comments in this vein relative to the recent Young Stribling-Harry Fay set in which Fay, while losing, gave Stribling his "hands full."

Young Stribling, who devotes most of his time to solving algebra and other scholastic problems, mastered a puzzle of the ring at the City Auditorium Thursday night, and proved that a layoff from fisticuffing has extracted little from his ability, by winning the decision over Harry Fay of Louisville.

"That was not an easy task. Fay fought a much better fight against Stribling than he did against Jack Reddick in their recent draw scrap here. The fight had gone but two or three rounds before W. L. serenely confident, awoke to the realization that he was battling a young man who was perfectly capable of taking and administering punishment."

"Young Stribling promptly snapped out of it and went after Fay with renewed vigor. Stribling in the first two rounds was exactly like a young man about to enter a class room, happy in the knowledge that he was prepared to answer any question that the professor might ask. Fay is far from being a professor, but he is a coming fighter, and he added to his admirers by his clean-cut tactics."

"W. L. was the much stronger of the two. He flashed that strength when Fay elected to clinch. Several times he swung Fay all over the ring with the strength of his arms and once he was so vigorous in his efforts to free himself that both boys landed in a heap in the far corner of the ring."

"Fay has a good left. He landed it several times and, while Strib was never seriously hurt, he took those jabs and hooks as a challenge and answered with his own left, which is by no means weak. Ask anyone who has fought the schoolboy scrapper."

"Strib hurt Fay in the fifth with a left and right to the face, but Fay came right back. All through the fight he had Strib missing with his left. His blocking was good, but his most effective defense was dodging. Blows with a sleeping potion at the end of them grazed by Fay's head time and again."

"In the seventh round Stribling opened his most vicious and brilliant attack and gave the fans some idea of why he is called the uncrowned light-heavyweight champion of the world. The average boxer would have curled up under Strib's assault to the body, but Fay weathered the volley of lefts and rights to the body. Just before Strib started that attack Fay went to the floor but it was from bad footing and not from contact with Strib's punching paws."

"There was not a single knockdown during the fight. Fay slipped up twice, Strib's feet got out from under control once and then there was he time when the boys went down together."

"Strib unleashed his left in the eighth and drove it square into Fay's ace time and again. That left works like a piston, and one driven by real power. In that round Fay's mouth was bleeding from jabs that reached their mark.

"Strib took the ninth round, contenting himself with an attack to the head that was centered mostly in left jabs and hooks."

"Fay had Strib missing in the final round, but contented himself with defensive tactics. Strib was trying desperately for a kayo. Fay slipped again in this stanza, but that did not count. He was up like a rocket."

"According to this writer's tally, Strib took five rounds and the other five were even. Some of those could have been different, but it was W. L.'s night all the way."

KNOCKED OUT

Jack Sharkey, at one time leading contender for the world's bantam-weight championship, making his come-back appearance at the Palace A. C., New York, last night was in prepared to answer any question that the professor might ask. "W. L. was the much stronger of the two. He flashed that strength when Fay elected to clinch. Several times he swung Fay all over the ring with the strength of his arms and once he was so vigorous in his efforts to free himself that both boys landed in a heap in the far corner of the ring."

BUCS GET AN OMAHA STAR THROUGH TRADE

By passing along Arnold Stone, left-handed pitcher, and a sum of money which reaches five figures, the Pirates last night procured a promising second baseman. The boy is L. Frisco Thompson, Jr., star of the Omaha club of the Western League.

Manager McKechnie and Treasurer Sam Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club negotiated the deal, working with officials of the Omaha club. Thompson is only 21 years of age, but the youth already had made a marked impression. He played in 168 games for Omaha last summer. He batted for the mark of .317. The recruit is five feet eight and weighs 155. Chick Fraser recommended Thompson.

Some folks think that King George and Lloyd George are brothers.

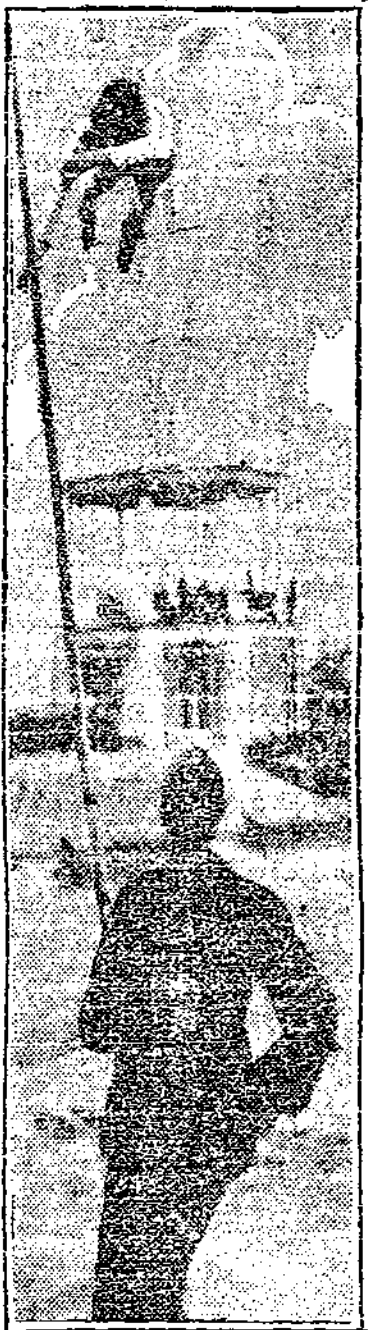

ONSLLOW IS TO COACH THE PITCHING STAFF

Jack Omslow, former manager of the Allegheny Steel Club and last season pilot of the Richmond club, pennant winners in the Virginia League, has been signed by the Pirates as a coach of pitchers, and will accompany the team when it leaves on its spring training trip.

Omslow will alternate with Jewell Ens and Manager McKechnie on the coaching line also. No hint of the probable return of Omslow has been heard in Pittsburgh and just how it will affect the status of Grover Land, coach last season, is not yet known.

Omslow's home is in Tarentum. He is one of the best known ball players in the country. He first won fame in this section by the showing he made with the Allegheny Steel Club. In 1923 he was with the Portland (Ore.) club in the Pacific Coast League. Last year he took hold of the reins of the Richmond Colts and piloted that club to a pennant.

Now President Knows How Army "Mule" Can Kick

President Coolidge, commander-in-chief of the U. S. military forces, was one of the notables who saw the Army eleven (or rather Center Garbisch) defeat the Navy 12 to 9 on the closing day of the football season. Garbisch's four goals from the field netted the 12 points and gave the president an idea of how an army "mule" kicks. Upper photo shows President and Mrs. Coolidge at the game. Lower photo shows army team turning back Navy drive at the Army goal.

Ramblers Open Season By Defeating The Pilots Of Monessen

The H. T. A. C. Ramblers opened their season by trimming the strong Pilot club of Monessen by the score of 43 to 25. The Pilots, though outclassed from the beginning of the game, appeared to be a bigger and more experienced team.

Owing to a misunderstanding by both teams, this game should not have been played until December 25, so it was played as an exhibition and will not count in the league standing. The locals jumped into the lead at the very beginning by caging three successive field goals, and held the lead throughout the game.

At times both teams showed flashes of form in the passing game.

This being the first game of the season the locals were off in their shooting, and missed many easy shots.

The whole Rambler team played good ball, while the Hornack brothers starred for the losers. The lineup: A. Dutine.....F.....P. Swade

DISEASE FREE SEED YIELDS BEST RESULTS

Allentown, Dec. 3. — Disease-free seed used by potato club members in Lehigh county gave boy and girl growers yields practically double those from home seed, according to A. L. Hacker, county agent. This means a lower cost of production.

Lehigh county is generally regarded as one of the leading potato growing counties in Pennsylvania and so much work has been done to improve methods that it was hardly considered as a field for potato club work. The results of the initial work, however, indicate a seed for still further improvement.

State Boxing Board Will Attend Zivic And Goldman Bout

The import of the Jack Zivic-Nate Goldman bout next Monday at Motor Square Garden became known yesterday when word was received that the entire state boxing commission would be in attendance, occupying ringside seats. The visit of the commission is to prevent, so far as possible, a repetition of the scenes which occurred the last time these two met, when, after a squabble which might have become serious, Zivic was declared J. I. J. has secured Irish "Chick" the winner on an alleged foul in the third round. It has also been intimated that an out-of-town referee will be in charge of the bout. The last meeting of Zivic and Goldman was a thriller for action while it lasted and there seems to be no reason why Monday's bout should be any different. Joe Novak, sensational ex-ambassador, a terrific southpaw body, will open the show.

puncher, gave Zivic a great pasting in the first round, only to have the Pittsburgh lad come back strong in the second and up until the time his manager claimed a foul. It looked like the best fight in years until halted and the thousands who are expected to be there Monday are hoping that one fighters start right out where they left off.

To back up the card Manager John become serious, Zivic was declared J. I. J. has secured Irish "Chick" the winner on an alleged foul in the third round. "Captains Courageous" Serve Long On Canadian Liners

Captain John Hall, late commander of the Canadian Pacific's SS. "Montreal," bade good bye on Nov. 4th to ships of the sea 17 of whose bridges he had paced for 45 years; covering in that period 976,000 miles or 39 times around the globe and visiting all over the world in every sort of weather and climate. It is loyalty of this sort that made possible the highest service on the seas by men who have qualified as "Captains Courageous."

Captain Hall began his career with the Allan Line and when that organization was absorbed by the Canadian Pacific, he went along with the ships. His record shows that he was the fourth officer on the "Sarmatian," "Grenam," "Manitoba" and "Siberian" from 1891 to 1894; third officer of the "Siberian" in 1896; second officer of the "Siberian" in 1898; first of second of the "Siberian" in May 1908. In June of that year he received his first command the "Orcadian," and from then until now he has commanded the following ships: "Hibernian," "Nunivian," "Gramscian," "Coriscian," "Tuscan," "Montfort," "Sibelian," "Scandinavian," "Bosworth," "Marburn," "Marloch" and "Montreal." His progress was steady and rapid, and his reputation as a navigator has been of the highest.

During his many years in charge of ships he has met thousands of passengers of every rank and from every country on the globe and has endeavored himself to travelers of every walk in life and of every nationality.

He commanded four troop ships during the Great War which service took him into far-away ports on the Persian Gulf into the Dardanelles, Mudros, Gallipoli and Archangel and finally to conveying Belgian refugees back to their country from England. For this latter service he was awarded the King Albert medal.

His record shows that he was the fourth officer on the "Sarmatian," "Grenam," "Manitoba" and "Siberian" from 1891 to 1894; third officer of the "Siberian" in 1896; second officer of the "Siberian" in 1898; first of

COFFEE IS BEING DRUNK NOW BETWEEN MEALS

Coffee is becoming a favorite mid-afternoon beverage.

The head of a nationally known chain of restaurants is authority for the statement that the drinking of coffee between meals by business men, and for that matter, business women, is attaining sufficient volume to merit close study in catering to this new trade.

Women shoppers also are finding coffee a welcome relief from afternoon fatigue, as attested by department store restaurants and soda fountains generally.

Recent reports of such eminent scientists as Professor Samuel C. Prescott of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology may have contributed to this new tendency.

Professor Prescott says that coffee is a beverage which properly prepared and rightly used gives comfort and inspiration, and augments mental and physical activities.

Restaurants and soda fountains have no well defined explanation for this between meals coffee trade however. They are accepting it gratefully, and are studying the habits and likes of the men and women who appear sometimes at mid-morning but in far greater numbers around 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Between meals coffee is having the effect of giving restaurants something of the club atmosphere, a suggestion of the coffee houses of old. Here and there is springing up a coffee house patterned on those which flourished before the after and American Revolution. Business deals are being closed, social and political campaigns are being mapped out, new towns are designed—all across the table, with steaming coffee between.

What the small boy doesn't understand is why they retain grownups to judge jam exhibits at state fairs.

TRY TO SOLVE THE SHEATSLEY MYSTERY BY A HUMAN TEST

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 3.—Further experiment to determine whether Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, Lutheran pastor's wife, took her own life or was murdered, were undertaken by the furnace mystery investigators today.

Virtually abandoning hope of solving the case as a crime authorities set out to eliminate all evidence that may indicate suicide before discussing the mystery as "the perfect murder."

One of the final experiments calls for a human test with a woman of Mrs. Sheatsley's stature and weight to decide once and for all whether the pastor's wife could have crawled through the 14-inch square door of the parsonage furnace.

Heretofore it has been accepted solely on the basis of measurements that the opening into the fire-box was large enough for Mrs. Sheatsley to crawl through.

At a conference last night between County Prosecutor John R. King, Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, the furnace victim's pastor, and a chemist and other scientists working on the case, it was decided that several more experiments, including the human test, would be necessary before final disposition of the mystery either murder or as suicide.

In Society's Realm

Tomorrow afternoon in the church rooms of the Christ Lutheran church, the Kensington will meet in its regular meeting. Mrs. Charles Bromwich, Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. Ed. Schultz are to be the hostesses.

A called session of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church will be held this evening at the church. The purpose of the meeting is to make final arrangements for the annual Christmas bazaar to be held the 11th, 12th, and 13th of this month. A good attendance is urged.

In the basement of the First Baptist church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock the congregation and their friends will be entertained with a Touring Party. According to the plans made the evening promises to be a most enjoyable one. In addition to the tour other attractive features on the program will be orchestra music, readings and refreshments. A good attendance is expected.

The dance and entertainment committee appointed by the retiring president of the Crozier club of St. Mary's Episcopal church, Walter T. Bromwich, will meet in special session Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the chairman, Walter H. Fielding, the Myford Hotel. At this time special plans will be discussed and definitely decided upon. Every member of the committee is expected to be present.

The members of the Bee Tee club were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Martha Harper of Eldora last evening. Cards were the evening's diversion, the favors being awarded to Misses Sophie Michener, Bess Collins, and Gertrude McKenna. Luncheon was served by the hostess at a late hour, and adjournment followed. The next meeting will probably be held at the home of Mrs. Nell Johnson of Eighth street in two weeks time.

Last evening twenty guards and officers of the W. B. A. of the Macahees accorded Mrs. Robert Fisher, captain of the guard team, a party at her home in 113 Fallowfield avenue. The affair was a complete surprise to the honored guest, everyone entering her home singing "How Do You Do Mrs. Fisher, How Do You Do." On behalf of the ones present, Mrs. Mary Davis presented Mrs. Fisher with a beautiful purse, evidencing the love and esteem with which she is held. The evening was pleasantly spent in games, singing and dancing and the serving of a dainty luncheon brought the enjoyable evening to a close.

The Zananna Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal church held its regular meeting in the Sunday school room of the church last evening. The business session which followed the devotional exercises, was conducted by the president, Mrs. John Pory. The members of the class were given a great surprise by the presence of two former members, Mrs. Kling Tarvilliger, formerly of this place, now of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Ross Waddell of Hazlet, Pa., formerly of Charleroi, who are visiting with friends here. A social hour followed the business session, during which time dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Walter Byrly, Mrs. W. H. Whigham, and Mrs. A. J. Weight.

At 7 o'clock this morning a quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Rev. E. N. Duty, former pastor of the First Christian church, of Hazelkirk road, when Miss Ruby Marie Tustin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Tustin of Conrad avenue, North Charleroi, became the bride of Alfred Q. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones of 727 Fallowfield avenue. The bride wore a blue ensemble suit with hat to correspond and carried a bouquet of roses. She was attended by Miss Velma Jones, sister of the groom, while John Tustin, brother of the bride, served as best man. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's parents. This evening at the home of the bride's parents, a wedding dinner will be served. The young couple, who are very well known in the boroughs, will go to housekeeping in Conrad avenue, where the groom has a newly furnished home awaiting his bride. Mrs. Jones has been employed in the office of John O. Watson, while the groom is employed as a clerk at the Pittsburgh Steel Company, Monessen.

Source of Mental Health

In society you will not find health, but in Nature. You must converse much with the field and woods if you would imbibe such health into your mind and spirit as you covet for your body. Society is always diseased, and the best is the sickest. There is no scent in it so wholesome as that of the pines, nor any fragrance so penetrating and restorative as that of everlasting in high pastures. Without that our feet at least stood in the midst of Nature, all our faces would be pale and livid.—Thoreau.

Triangular Trade Route

The name "Triangular Trade route" was applied to the route from the United States to the West Indies; from the West Indies to Europe; and from Europe to the United States. The mainland shipped food and lumber to the West Indies; the West Indies shipped sugar products to Europe; and Europe shipped manufactures to the American mainland, thus closing the transaction.

Marvelous Memory

Two little cousins, Jennie and Kate, were disputing about which was the older of the two, when Jennie settled the argument by exclaiming: "Why, Katie, I just know I'm older than you, 'cause I'm better 'stinctly going over Aunt Sarah, where's Katy?" and Aunt Sarah said, "Why, Katie isn't borned yet."—Boston Transcript.

Vanity Characteristic

Statues made in Crete some 5,000 years ago show such slender waists that ladies at that time very likely wore some sort of corsets. The lure of the slender waist haunted the ancient women from the East East to the western shores of Europe. References to corseting are found in the writings of the classic Greeks and Romans.

SMARTEST GOWNS USE TRIMMING WITH RESTRAINT

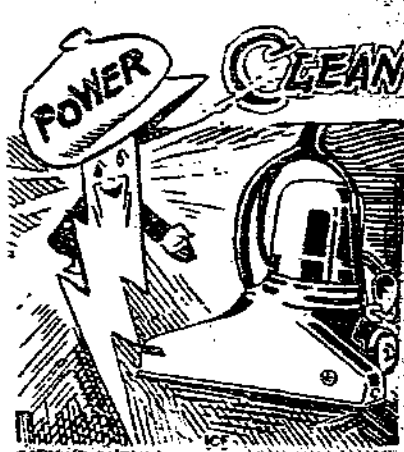

The very smartest of the season's gowns use trimmings with restraint, the sports frock shown being a point in order. Material of sand colored wool with hip banding of goat fur and a deftly placed touch of embroidery in pastel shades give the effect of smart simplicity.
